

Obi Van Passi Government Marriage Act of 2025

Chapter 1: Introduction

Section 1. Title

This Act may be cited as the Government Marriage Act.

Section 2. Purpose

The purpose of this Act is to regulate marriage and procreation in order to promote population growth and stability within the nation.

Chapter 2: Marriage and Procreation Obligations

Section 3. Minimum Number of Children

Each adult male citizen of the nation shall be required to father a minimum of ten children during his lifetime.

Failure to meet this requirement shall result in penalties as outlined in Section 6 of this Act.

Section 4. Open Marriages

Open marriages, wherein spouses are permitted to engage in romantic or sexual relationships with individuals outside of their marriage, shall be legal and permissible for adult males.

Female spouses shall not be permitted to engage in open marriages, and any violation of this provision shall result in penalties as outlined in Section 6 of this Act.

Chapter 3: Marriage Registration and Monitoring

Section 5. Marriage Registration

All marriages must be registered with the government within thirty days of the wedding ceremony.

Failure to register a marriage within the specified timeframe shall render the marriage null and void.

Section 6. Monitoring of Procreation Obligations

The government shall establish a registry to monitor the procreation obligations outlined in Section 3 of this Act.

Citizens shall be required to report the birth of each child to the government within thirty days of the child's birth.

Failure to report the birth of a child within the specified timeframe shall result in penalties as outlined in Section 6 of this Act.

Chapter 4: Penalties and Enforcement

Section 7. Penalties for Non-Compliance

Failure to meet the minimum procreation obligations outlined in Section 3 of this Act shall result in fines and/or imprisonment, as determined by the court.

Engaging in an open marriage without proper authorization, as outlined in Section 4 of this Act, shall result in fines and/or imprisonment, as determined by the court.
Any individual found guilty of violating the provisions of this Act shall be subject to penalties as outlined in this Section.

Section 8. Enforcement

The government shall establish an enforcement agency responsible for monitoring compliance with this Act.
The enforcement agency shall have the authority to investigate and prosecute violations of this Act.

Chapter 5: Miscellaneous Provisions

Section 9. Exemptions

Individuals who are medically unable to meet the procreation obligations outlined in Section 3 of this Act shall be exempt from such requirements.

Exemptions may be granted by the government on a case-by-case basis, subject to verification by medical professionals.

Section 10. Repeal of Conflicting Laws

Any laws or provisions of laws in conflict with this Act are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict.

Section 11. Severability

If any provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the Act and the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

Section 12. Effective Date

This Act shall take effect on the date of its enactment.

Chapter 6: Conclusion

Section 13. Enactment

This Act is enacted into law by the authority vested in the legislative body of the nation.

Section 14. Amendments

Amendments to this Act may be made by the legislative body of the nation through the regular legislative process.

Section 15. Interpretation

This Act shall be construed in accordance with the laws and constitution of the nation.

Section 16. Citation

This Act may be cited as the Government Marriage Act.
